Editor's Note

Thank you all for being so patient while this book was being finished. This is the second year in a row I have been asked by the Student Involvement office to finish a yearbook that was abandoned. I do not say this as an excuse, neither do I say it as self-praise. I also do not say this necessarily to criticize the past two editors of the Dial who did not finish their respective editions. Their actions speak for themselves, regardless of circumstances. I only say this so you understand why it has taken so long to get the 1999 yearbook to you.

Having said this, we were strapped for photos of this past year's events, since very few photos were taken at all during the second half of the school year. Nonetheless, we were able to put together a yearbook thanks to the tremendous collaboration between the administration and the Student Involvement offices.

Rebecca Bowman-Saunders, as flooded as she is with her new duties as Acting Director of Student Involvement, was supportive throughout the entire process of putting this yearbook together. She actively recruited people to get this yearbook completed. Rebecca has consistently acted to ensure this book would be completed, always asking me how she could help. It is in large part to Rebecca's efforts that this book is finally completed, and for that she has my utmost thanks.

Framingham is lucky to have Jostens as their yearbook company. Their representatives were prompt in assisting me when I needed it, none more so than Arnie Lohman. Arnie constantly went out of his way despite his busy schedule to ensure that FSC would always have a yearbook out, even before I came on board. I hope Arnie will be as patient with my successors as he was with me. Framingham is indeed lucky to have someone as caring as Arnie.

My thanks also go out to Gina and Teresa of the Media Center. They were both kind enough to lend me photos of various events throughout the year; without these photos the yearbook would certainly have not been completed. I am thankful to Lisa Walmsley, also a member of the Class of 1999, for contributing several of her photos that made the completion of this yearbook a reality.

On the administration side, Martha Flinter was kind enough to help out with proofreading as well as several suggestions for features in the 1999 edition. Like everyone else in administration, Martha has a very demanding schedule, and she was kind enough to take time out to ensure that a quality edition of the Dial would be published for the Class of 1999.

I would be remiss if I did not mention the Athletics department, specifically former Sports Information Director Dave Henry. Before he left, Dave was kind enough to type up season summaries of all the FSC sport teams, as well as ensuring that we had the rosters and season results.

My apologies if I have missed anyone in my thanks. I really do appreciate everyone working together on this yearbook under very difficult circumstances. I feel that we have managed, despite everything, to put out a high-quality edition of the yearbook for the Class of 1999. If anyone begs to differ, I would be happy to take it up with them. However, I stand by this final product and I am proud that I was a part of helping to finally get this edition of the Dial to print. Once again, thank you for your patience, and I hope it is well-rewarded by this edition.

Sincerely,

Joe Cheverie

POEM

Although I have just gone on at length about how important teamwork was in getting this yeabook completed, it is just as important to realize one's self-worth. This truth is not self-evident to everyone, but it is just as important as teamwork. For if you don't believe in yourself, how can you possibly believe in the people that are working with you? Given this sentiment, the Epilogue to Beaumont and Fletcher's Honest Man's Fortune sums this up perfectly. This Epilogue is also quoted verbatim in Ralph Waldo Emerson's Self-Reliance.

Man is his own star; and the soul that can
Render an honest and a perfect man,
Commands all light, all influence, all fate;
Nothing to him falls early or too late.
Our acts our angels are, or good or ill,
Our fatal shadows that walk by us still.

-from Epilogue to Honest Man's Fortune

DEDICATION

The Asako Mazawa Japanese Memorial Garden

April 12, 1999

On April 12, 1999, the Asako Mazawa Memorial Garden was formally dedicated. This garden is situated just outside the Hemenway Hall Annex, on the walkway between Dwight and May Halls. A member of the Class of 1998, Mazawa's name has transcended that of her class and spread to the whole Framingham State community. This garden will forever preserve her memory.

Special Thanks to the Media Center and the Office of International Students for their assistance in completing this section.

PRESIDENT KIEFT LEAVES FSC

Dr. Raymond Kieft's announcement during the winter that he would step down as college president came as somewhat of a surprise to the Framingham State community. Kieft arrived at Framingham in Fall 1996 to replace his longtime predecessor, Dr. Paul Weller. During his short stay at FSC, the outgoing president left his mark on the campus.

Cheerleading

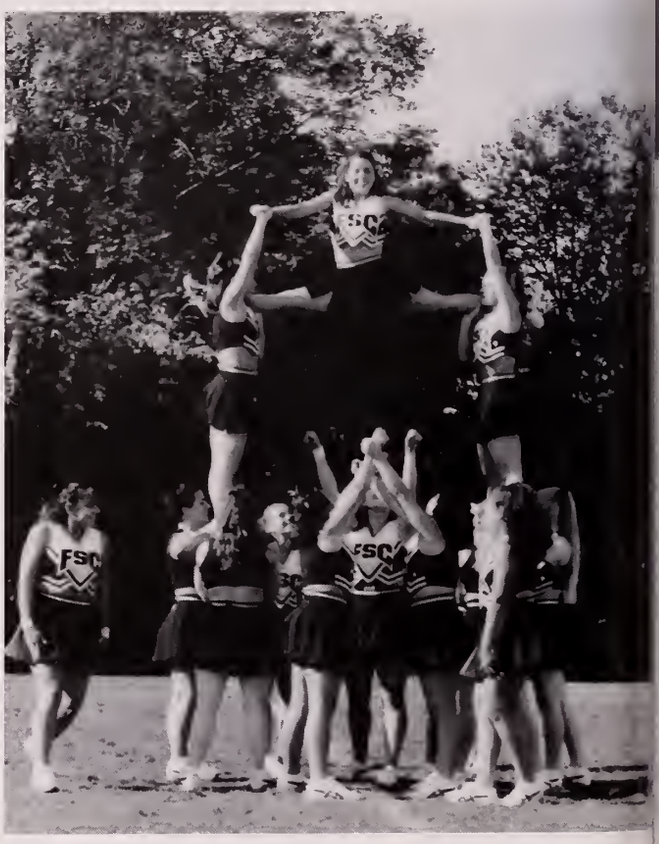
The Framingham State cheerleading squad had their most successful trip thus far in school history, going to the National Cheerleading Championships in April. The Rams placed second overall in Division I for the two-day event held in Florida. Congratulations on a great year for the FSC cheerleaders!



FSC

Football

The Rams lost four gut wrenching games in the fourth quarter this season, including two in the final two minutes, and finished with a 2-8 record. The team posted early season victories over UMass Boston and Curry College and the future looks optimistic under Coach Mike Sterachan.

Junior Ed Roberts made First Team All-New England Football Conference and Second Team ECAC Division III New England.

No Framingham State player has made the ECAC All Star Team since Rodd Patten in 1991, who was named the Division III Player of the Year in New England. Roberts caught nine touchdown passes and amassed 493 yards (18.3 yards per catch).

The Lady Rams ended the season with the best record in the history of the program at 16-3. The team made the post season for the first time, hosting the Massachusetts Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Soccer Championships. The Rams prevailed in the final with a 1-0 victory over Endicott College.

Sophomore Nicole Abbott was named the MASCAC Player of the Year after shattering the Framingham State single-season scoring record with 20 goals and 13 assists. Also receiving high accolades was freshman goalkeeper Kristina Kern, who was voted the MASCAC Rookie of the Year. Freshman Andrea Palli, junior Amanda Stoudt, and senior Melissa Vengrow were named to the all-conference second team.

THE NEW ATHLETIC FACILITY BREAKS GROUND!

After numerous false starts and rumors of starting, ground was finally broken for the new athletic facility in May 1999. Located in the space between Dwight and Pierce Halls, the facility will be approximately 60,000 square feet in size.

The facility will include two basketball courts, a weight room, as well as a training area and full locker rooms. As much as "The Pit" will be missed, this facility will provide FSC athletes with tremendous equipment and will succeed in drawing top-notch athletes back to Framingham State. Ram athletics are heading in a positive direction with the arrival of this long-overdue complex.

Campus Life II

A QUICK TOUR OF THE FSC CAMPUS

The D. Justin McCarthy College Center
This building houses primarily all of the student clubs and organizations: WDJM Radio (91.3), the student newspaper, The Gatepost, and the literary magazine, The Onyx, among them. The ground floor has the commuter and resident cafeterias.

Lucretia Crocker Hall

Where would we be without CASA? Seriously, the Center for Academic Support and Advising is always there in a pinch to ensure the academic well-being of all students. They have a terrific staff, led by Suzanne Conley, Academic Dean of Undergraduates Judy Klass, and Sue Sporte.

Horace Mann Hall

Pierce Hall

Dwight Hall
Home to all of the administrative offices: President's Office, Registrar's Office, Admissions, and my personal favorite-Student Accounts

Ah yes, the College Bookstore. They have all the school supplies you'll ever need, but it will cost you.

Henry J. Whittemore Library
The four floors of the library hold the various periodicals as well as the communications department. The college's Media Center is also housed in this building.

Moving day is always a pleasure at Framingham

Towers Hall

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL
EDUCATION
THE JOHN STALKER INSTITUTE

Hemenway Hall
Computer labs are located on the basement level and the third floor. All of the science labs are in this building and its annex.

O'Connor Hall
The all-women dormitory is also home to the Health Services and the McAuliffe Center

May Hall

The three floors of classrooms are dominated by the Art, History and English departments that are located in this building.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY CANDIDS

Um, please rise for our national anthem?

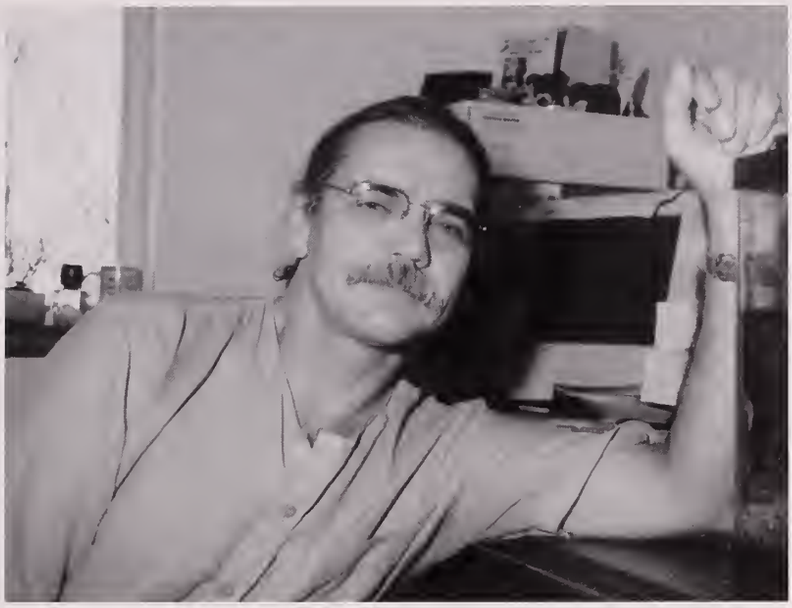
Congratulations Billy, you've won yourself a hardcover Shakespeare book that only weights 35 pounds!

Prof. Stephen Davis of the Communications department tries a new method to induce more class participation.

Speaking of Communications, department chair Derrick TePaske poses with retiring professor Joan Horrigan. Horrigan stepped down after more than 40 years of teaching.

Outside, the way class was meant to be

Cancel that last remark, THIS is the way class was meant to be



Prof. Gene Muller of the Biology department taking a moment to relax.

Prof. Robert Johnson in action during a television class.

Rebecca Taylor of the Family and Consumer Sciences department patiently at work with her students.

Hey! You in the middle, wake up!

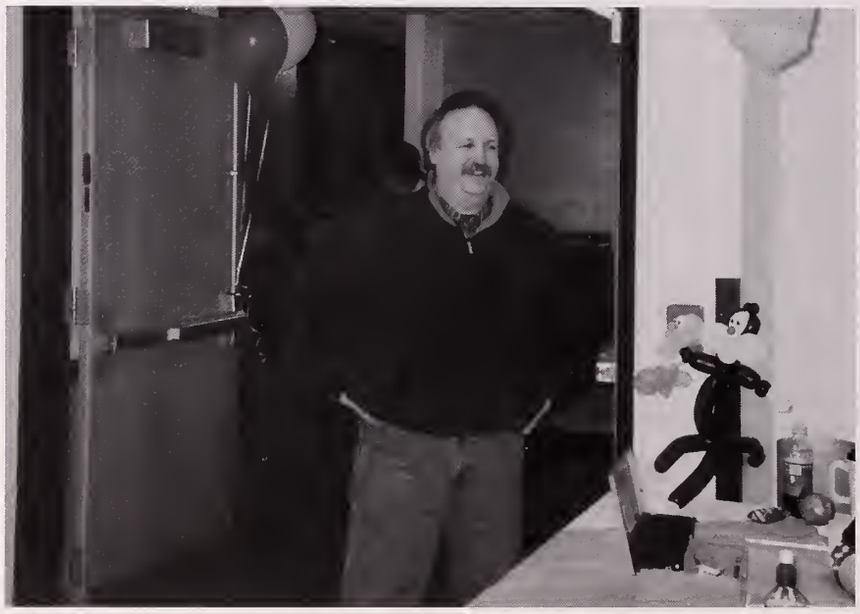
Sing louder, I can't hear you!

The Career Services department takes a well-deserved break from their busy schedule.

Sociology Professor Jonathan White addresses the crowd.

Peter Chisholm of the Public Affairs department

FAREWELL TO LARRY MOSHER



After 19 years at Framingham State, Larry Mosher moved on. During his stay at FSC, Larry was responsible for developing the College Center into a building centered on student activities. He was constantly around student events and made a point of ensuring the clubs were always running smoothly. While his presence will be missed, the clubs will continue to run smoothly thanks to Larry's perseverance and dedication to this school.

FRAMINGHAM STATE C
B. JUSTIN McCARTHY COLLE

Commencement
May 23, 1999

The commencement speaker for the Class of 1999 was Malden Mills president Aaron Feurstein. Feurstein recieved national acclaim in 1995 for continuing to pay his employees after the Malden Mills plant had burned to the ground. For the three months it took to build the plant back up, the Malden Mills employees were kept on staff and received benefits during the entire rebuilding process. Feurstein's closing remarks to the Class of 1999 was to be humane in all business dealings, and to help wipe out "the inhumanity of the 20th century."

IRE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1999

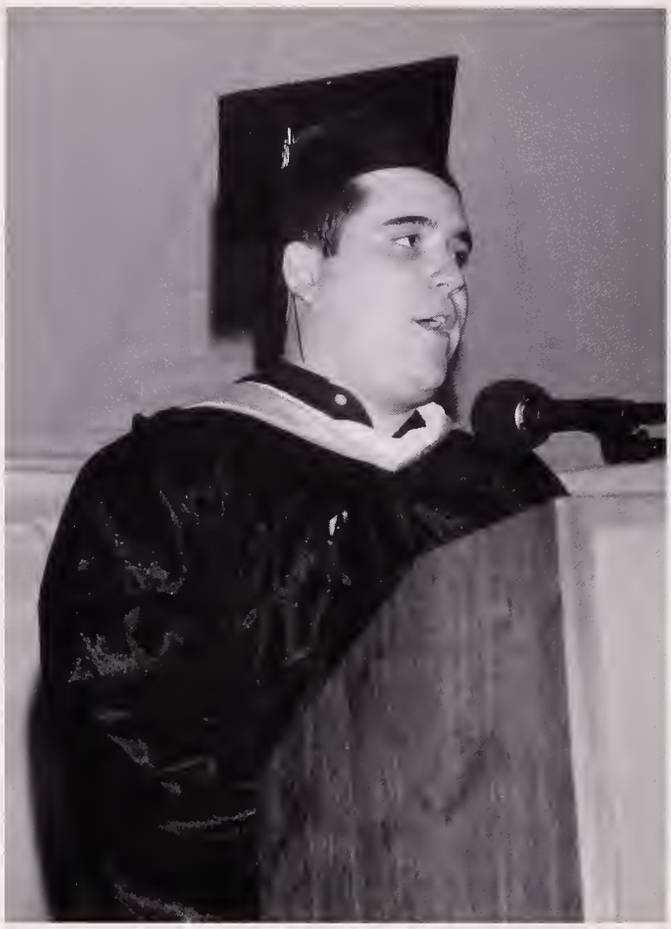
With all due respect to the artist still known as Prince(despite what he'd like us to think)...

TONIGHT WE'RE GONNA PARTY LIKE IT'S 1999!



From Senior Class President Adam Perry:

On behalf of the Class of 1999 Officers, I would like to thank every Senior for making our four years at Framingham State College very pleasurable ones. When looking back over the past four years, I feel very lucky to have been able to meet a wide variety of people, as well as working with many of them. Our class this year has seemed to be a very united one, and I am grateful for that. It is because of that we have been successful over the years. I encourage each of you to hold on to that closeness in everything you do. In closing, I would like to wish you all good luck in your journeys, and don't forget to have fun in whatever you do!

Adam Perry, President
Class of 1999

ONE MORE TIME FOR THE CLASS OF '99

Letter from the Editor:

This is the part I would normally skip over in a yearbook, a page filled with the gratuitous "college was the best four years of my life."

Well, I can't help myself-all of those gratuitous elements are in here. If I didn't feel lucky to have attended Framingham State, then I would not be here writing this letter in the middle of October 1999, five months after I have graduated. But the school has been tremendous in preparing me for a successful future.

The credit for my preparation belongs to many people at Framingham too numerous to be mentioned here. I must mention several people who have been instrumental in my eventual college graduation: Desmond McCarthy-long after I made it clear that journalism was not in my future, he still cared enough about my own future plans anyway. Thank you also to Suzanne Conley, Judy Klass, Joyce Lazarus, Miriam Levine, Mark Seiden and Derrick TePaske for your belief and patience in me, even when I put forth minimal effort at times as a student. On the extracurricular front, thank you to the entire Athletic and Student Involvement staffs for your consistent support in my efforts.

The professor I am most grateful to is Arthur Nolletti of the English department. Although well-known and beloved on the Framingham campus, I still believe this gentleman does not get the full credit he deserves. Dr. Nolletti, despite his crazy schedule, always makes a point of inquiring about the personal well-being of his students, past and present alike. Even though I faltered in my academic career at various points, Dr. Nolletti still believed in me enough to both encourage and push me to become a better person and student. I hope every student gets the chance to have Dr. Nolletti in class, or at least get to know him through his international film series.

On a personal note, thank you to my wonderful parents, my sister Marybeth and my brother Mike for their rock-solid support and giving me a laugh when I needed one (which is always). I am lucky to have a terrific core of friends that have always been rock-solid: Justin, Deana, Spike, Kells, Dan, Chambers, Matt, JHill, Morgs, Heather and Liz. I apologize if I have forgotten anyone in this space, I really have been lucky to have terrific friends both in and out of school.

One final piece of advice I must send to undergraduates who come after me: GET INVOLVED! I was able to make terrific friends due in large part to the organizations I was involved in, namely the Gatepost and the Onyx. While the idea of student involvement may initially seem hokey to some, student involvment with clubs is your chance to leave your mark on this campus. The chances to leave such a mark diminishes as you get older, especially if you're a nameless face in a corporation. Getting involved on campus also prepares you for the post-graduate world, where meeting deadlines is even more crucial. There are trying times too, just like in any other organization, but the good times far outnumber the bad. Get involved and see whatever you are involved in through to the end-IT IS WORTH IT! Seeing the club activities through to the end gives you a trememdous sense of accomplishment, and nobody can take it away from you. I hope those who read this will take my advice and get involved. Ultimately, it is the students who determine how great a school can be, and Framingham has the opportunity to be a great school; the tools are in place.

To the members of the Class of 1999, I take tremendous pride in graduating with a terrific group of people. Good luck to you all, and never settle for second best.
